Dear VFW Post Commander,

The close relationship between the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Boy Scouts of America dates back to 1915 when VFW Post 2100 teamed up with another civic organization to establish Troop 1 in Everett, Washington. That century-long relationship has fostered true patriotism, community service and strong, moral character throughout the ensuing decades.

Today, the VFW and Scouting continues to promote the basic values and principles that founded this nation and have made it great. Today, nearly 1,300 VFW Posts have stepped up to sponsor Scouting units, giving us the opportunity to have a positive impact on more than 40,000 young people.

Every VFW Post has the opportunity to work in partnership with the Boy Scouts of America when they sponsor a unit. This provides a unique opportunity to pass the values for which we served on to the next generation. Post involvement with Scouting creates a relationship that benefits the Post and the community today and will likely result in new members in the future.

Therefore, I am pleased to renew our endorsement of Scouting and encourage all VFW Posts and Departments to become involved in participating in Scouting activities.

Sincerely,

Richard L. Eubank
Commander-in-Chief
